Dear Mr. Stebbins:

You wrote me a letter dated September 3, 2014 expressing "dismay" over the fact that JEGS Automotive parts catalogue was not given to you but put in your property.

Mr. Stebbins, you have been at this jail many different times and you are well aware of the requirement to grieve issues at the lowest level and proceed through the chain of command. I am not in the chain of command. I will ask the Grievance Coordinator if this issue has been raised with her.

As an additional matter, I have reviewed your filings with the New Hampshire Federal District Court. You are currently "Medium" and have been for several months, although you wrote to the Court on or about August 25th and implied to the Magistrate Judge that you were classified as a minimum security inmate. Although the jail management system indicated that you were minimum, your record indicated you were medium. See attached Classification Notice.

Respectfully

John Vinson

Mr. Stebbins:

After a full review of your complaint regarding access to a Jegs catalog, the following determination was made. In accordance with the Department's Inmate Mail policy, you may submit a request to the Superintendent to place your catalog in the library or it will remain in your property and you may request to view it but it will not remain in your possession.

Thank you.
